

Will it fit???

To check to see if the trigger will work in you gun, remove the stock. To do this, remove the front forestock screws and rear trigger guard screw. Separate the stock from the action. Look at your trigger block and compare it to the pictures below.

Does your trigger block look like this? If so, then it will use the CBR trigger

Or this

Does your trigger block look similar the one below? If so, then it will use the GRT-III trigger
